Hi everybody,

in relation to the above subject, althought I do not currently own either of the two rigs, I would like to share with you the experience of a couple of friends who have bought the TH-78 about 9 months ago.

The small HT is quite good at the open ground, but watch out when getting indoors. I've personally seen it (on more than one occasions) to get crazy, by receiving noise from the fluorescent lights, in office buildings. It looks as if Kenwood have build a very sensitive receiver, so sensitive that it can listen to any garbage radiation in the area.
